

Watershed Institute's Butterfly Festival in Pennington offers a close look at some natural wonders

By L.A. PARKER | laparker@trentonian.com | The Trentonian

UPDATED: August 4, 2024 at 3:39 p.m.

PENNINGTON — Hundreds packed The Watershed Institute's 24th Annual Butterfly Festival Saturday despite near three-digit real feel temperatures.

The in-person celebration packed with family fun activities that included tours of the Kate Gorrie Butterfly House and the Insect Zoo.

The day provided music and live entertainment, plus, animal shows presented by Eyes of the Wild. Young children participated in the popular "Butterfly and Bug Parade" led by Lady Monarch, Ms. Allison.

The Watershed served as an outdoor classroom as guests learned about watersheds and the need to protect our rivers, lakes, and streams through educational hands-on-exhibits.

Originally Published: August 4, 2024 at 3:35 p.m.

(L.A. Parker/The Trentonian)